

A hand-drawn sketch of a creature on lined paper. The creature has a large, round, oval-shaped body. It has a single, large, almond-shaped eye with a small pupil and a curved line for a lid. Two small, pointed ears are at the top of the head. The creature has four long, thin, slightly curved legs extending downwards. The front legs are shorter and end in small, simple feet. The back legs are longer and end in small, simple feet. The drawing is done in black ink.
